

Cantor Colburn is the #3 Patent Law Firm in the U.S.

Cantor Colburn LLP is proud to announce that the firm was ranked #3 among U.S. law firms for the most U.S. utility patents obtained in 2018. IP Law360 published the ranking based on Harrity Patents Analytics' annual report of Top Patent Firms.

IP Law360 published the rankings of more than 700 U.S. law firms filing more than 50 utility patents in 2018, which found that Cantor Colburn obtained 3,576 patents in 2018. While Cantor Colburn has been a staple on the top 10 list for over a decade, the firm showed that it is still growing and pursuing excellence as demonstrated by moving up a spot on the top ten list.

"Being the #3 patent law firm in the country is an achievement we've worked toward, by hiring and training talented IP professionals," said Michael Cantor, Co-Managing Partner of Cantor Colburn. "Whether it is the incredible skill and expertise of our attorneys or the dedication to improving processes and systems by our support staff, the Cantor Colburn team is client-service driven. They are responsive and dedicated to providing quality and value."

Cantor Colburn's extensive patent team specializes in a wide array of technologies, including electrical engineering, computer science and computer engineering, mechanical engineering, physics, metallurgy, chemical engineering, chemistry, polymers, biochemistry, and more. The team has expertise in design patents – for which it also ranked #3 in the U.S., expedited examination, and patent landscaping, and provides all these services to domestic and international clients. But Cantor Colburn is not only a patent powerhouse; the firm also provides legal services in all areas of intellectual property, like litigation, including generic drug litigation; post grant review, including inter partes review (IPRs); transactions, licensing, agreements; and trademark and copyright.

"Our practice is balanced to offer clients the full range of IP services," said Philmore H. Colburn II, Co-Managing Partner. "Our clients depend on us to acquire quality patent rights quickly, and we are focused on getting those results."
